About Management Trainee Programme

We envisage management trainees as an investment for the future and our future leaders.

The 5 months Future Leadership program encompasses job rotation across departments in a challenging learning environment. Program provides business segment focussed training and gives exposure to the functioning of the company. It helps to identify the potential and interest of the candidate in an area where he can best use his talent.

The Management trainee will work with a department to identify business challenges. He will be assigned to take one of these challenges in the department as a project, The MT will work on identifying objectives, defining the scope of work, get involved with cost effective implementation and ensuring sustainability of the business process. In the process he will have the opportunity to experiment with new ideas, suggest and implement changes in the systems, learn from mistakes and understand the impact of the human element on business and to positively channelize energy.
